Parent Newsletter #21

January 27, 2020

It's Catholic Schools Week! We kicked off our week-long celebration with a special youth Mass on Sunday where we joined together to celebrate our parish. Our theme for the week is "Joining Hands to Serve" and each day we will be recognizing a special aspect of our mission. In the spirit of our theme this week, we are teaming up with the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society to help raise money for blood cancer research. To help this cause, we will be having a "Pie in the Pucker" contest all week where our students are invited to place their loose change into the jar of the person they would like to see get a "pie in the pucker". Some of our participants include St. Peter School teachers and staff as well as the mayor of our great city, Scott Washburn. The contest will conclude Friday morning where we will announce the winner and they will receive their "prize". There are so many things to be thankful for and to celebrate and we want to include all of you in our celebration. Thanks again for choosing to be a part of our family and we hope to see you this week!
