

We hope everyone enjoyed yet another extended weekend and were able to get some rest and a recharge of your batteries. Our hope is that we do not miss any more long periods of school so we can roll up our sleeves and get back to uninterrupted teaching and learning. This week is the midterm point of our third quarter already but with so much missed instruction time lately, the gradebook might look a little bare. Please don't worry about this. Our plan is to provide ample grading opportunities in the last half of the quarter so that students will have the chance to earn their final grades. As we move closer to the Lenten season, our students will be participating in reading/listening to the Stations of the Cross every Monday morning until Holy Week. Our first reading will be Monday, March 14th and will be recited by our sixth grade students. We plan on recording this event and streaming it live on our Facebook page for anyone interested in viewing this event. Finally, the EdChoice Expansion Scholarship application window is currently open through the Ohio Department of Education. This scholarship allows qualified families to receive tuition assistance. Please refer to the flier accompanying this newsletter for more information. Thanks again for your continued support and cooperation. We are truly blessed to have you in our St. Peter School family. God bless and stay healthy.
